George, the supplemental AERMOD low wind evaluation report that addresses the Sierra Club Appendix W docket submittal and the modeling files will be submitted today to the SO2 Consent Decree docket on behalf of Ameren Missouri (Labadie Energy Center).

In the docket already on behalf of Southern Illinois Power Cooperative is the JAWMA article (November 2015) on low wind evaluations for tall-stack databases, and also the submitted (and hopefully to be soon approved) "notebook paper" on LOWWIND3.

When I have the docket information, I will send that to you (probably next week).

If it is publically submitted to a Docket, then we can "view" it. Just let us know once you do submit it... and the Docket number. I can track it down from there.

George, it will likely be submitted to the SO2 designations EPA docket. Can you view it there?

Hey Bob... wow, this has been an insane couple of weeks. I have been trying to get back in contact with you about things, but there just hasn't been much, if any, free time. I'm a bit disappointed that our new phone system will not bump to voice mail when I'm on the phone. That does not bode well for the amount of conference calls to which I participate.

First, I was able to download the information that you shared. However, I have not shared it just yet throughout the masses here in the Air Quality Modeling Group. With further internal discussion, we cannot appropriately add it to the Docket at this point after the close of the comment period and consider it as part of our response to comments and/or final rulemaking... at least from that route. However, you guys are still very free to issue some kind of whitepaper or other informational article through other avenues that we could then possibly consider in the information. I'm not sure if there is some mechanism through AW&MA or other association / organization that the information could be released. If it were otherwise publically available for us to find / review, then we might could consider it or even take points from the whitepaper and further investigate ourselves. Otherwise, we are just in a tight spot on extrenal information being supplied directly to us in the midst of the rulemaking.

So, I hope that you can understand our circumstances. I'm bolting out of the office now, but we can certainly discuss more next week if needed.

Have a great weekend,

George

George, since I can't leave you a voice mail message on your phone (it just keeps ringing), I'll try voice mail. I was just wondering whether you were able to download and somehow "accept" for review the materials that I had posted last week on our own evaluation of the EPA-proposed options to address Sierra Club comments.
